

Tommy's Time?

Let's hope Tom's form is better than his dress sense in 2012

Tom Smallwood is a man on a mission. With Bradford & Bingley bound elder brother Harry no longer around next season, Tom is desperate to make his own mark in 2012 and he has been busy working on his fitness during the winter months. Tom told the website: "I was ready for the end of the season and a complete break, it was a tough season and with the side struggling confidence took a hammering but I am now fully focused on coming back stronger, we have made some excellent signings and it augurs well for a successful summer". Tom was more than honest in putting his struggles in 2011 down to 18 months non-stop cricket following a winter in Australia and will reap the benefits of a break from the game. Tom's batteries will be fully re-charged come April and with a clear role identified he will be keen to make an immediate impact.
